Topics

- ▶ Cashing in with canola - the latest management practices to maximise canola yields Rohan Brill, Brill Ag

Even with a dry start to the season many growers have chosen to plant canola with the prospect of big prices at harvest. Hear all about N management strategies, fungicide programs and other key management practices to get canola crops set up for big yields.
- ▶ Phosphorus zoning and management - does it pay? Sean Mason, Agronomy Solutions

After a few big production years in the Wimmera, some growers are noticing phosphorus levels declining in certain soil types. Does zoning of phosphorus have a place when addressing this issue? Sean's presentation will look to answer this question.
- ▶ Residue watch - how do I know if herbicide residues are breaking down before sowing? Lukas Van Zwieten, DPI NSW

Knowing if herbicide residues have broken down before sowing susceptible crops is a question many growers are asking. Lukas will present on new information regarding this topic.
- ▶ Pulse disease and agronomy update Jason Brand, Agriculture Victoria

Jason will look to cover the important pulse diseases to look out for in 2021, and management practices to help deal with these diseases. The presentation will also cover some new varieties in the pipeline and interesting new agronomy work going on in pulses.
- ▶ Vetch update on new varieties, management practices and other agronomic practices to get more out of this valuable legume Stuart Nagel, SARDI

Vetch is a versatile and valued crop for growers in the Wimmera. Stuart will cover off on new varieties, management practices and agronomic developments which will help to address the knowledge gap with this important crop.
